

Customer Accepted Options

Enable customers to add optional items directly to their estimate before accepting.

An option is an item or service outside the estimate total. Create options before sending the estimate to let customers add or remove items before accepting - the perfect way to present add-ons.

2. Enable Customer Accepted Options.

Customer Accepted Options

Changes made to this setting will affect existing estimates.

Allow customers the ability to add and remove options from their estimate.

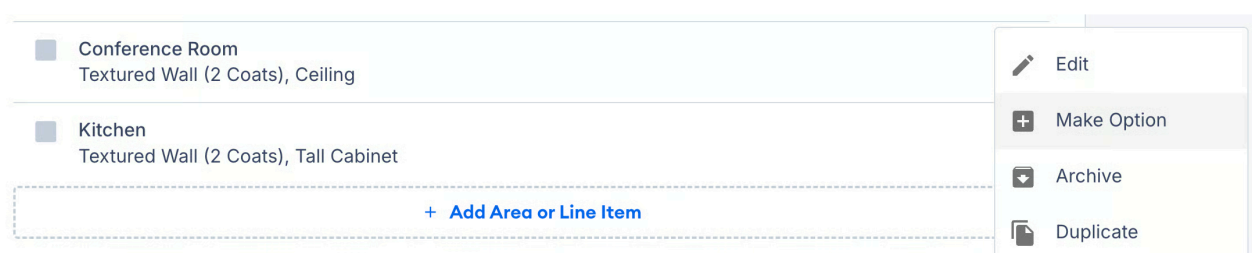

This setting applies to new and existing estimates.

How do you create an option?

There are two ways to create an option:

1. From the main estimate:

- Select one or more areas, line items, or groups and click Make Option from the bottom blue toolbar.
- You can also select Make Option from an item's menu.

2. From the Options section:

- Select Add Area or Line Item and add your optional items.

Options ☒

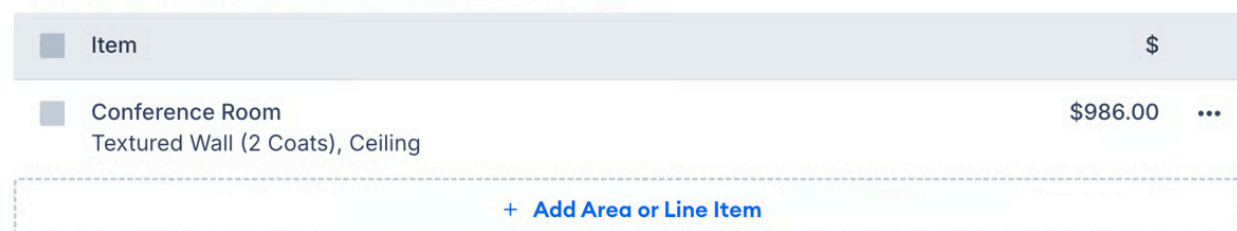

These items are optional additions and are not included in the total.

The selection then appears in the Options section below the estimate total.

How do you move an option back to the estimate?

To move an option back to the estimate and have it be included in the total sent to the customer:

- Select the desired items and click Move to Estimate from the blue toolbar.
- Or select Move to Estimate from an item's menu.

Customer experience

1. The customer will see the Options section at the bottom of the main estimate. They can select Add Option on any desired items.
